

Your Spouse Is In Hot Water.

And you're thinking... I won't be. Nothing can get you more steamed than realizing you are out of hot water while you are standing in the shower. That's why natural gas is the best choice for your home. Natural gas water heaters have a quicker recovery time which means more hot water for you and your family. Even if the power goes off you'll still get hot water. Something to think about if you're not the first one in the shower.

Natural gas is also an energy value. On average electricity costs three times more to use in your home than natural gas. When you use a natural gas water heater you save $200 to $300 per year.

Natural gas is the cleanest and most efficient fossil fuel. With the need to reduce the amount of pollutants being emitted into the air and water, natural gas is the best choice.

What does this mean for you? Value, efficiency, reliability, dependability, safety and comfort... and a hot shower - for a whole lot less than other energy sources.

So the next time you start to get all heated up about no hot water, consider natural gas as the better solution.
